Editorial

Dear IEJEE Readers,

We are proudly publishing, and you are probably enjoying the articles of International Electronic Journal of Elementary Education (IEJEE). This is our volume 11, issue 1. Many researchers are presenting eight papers addressing several important educational issues.

All of them are also challenging issues in many countries. IEJEE is an open access journal. Dissemination of research-based knowledge and ideas to many professionals and decision makers is one of our main targets. IEJEE's papers are also relevant for parents and students within the field of education.

For me as the Editor-In-Chief of this issue of IEJEE, it is impressing to see how the researchers from different countries and educational systems are engaged in and conducted research on different educational issues at micro-level and macro-level.

I want to express my deepest gratitude to all of the reviewers, coordinators, and executive and technical staff at IEJEE.

Sincerely,

Dr. Hayriye Gül Kuruyer

Editor-In-Chief
